What perfect timing! This two-day workshop starts on Earth Day, and finishes up just in time for a unique, hand-made Mother's Day gift, created with your own hands.

Part I of II - Earth Day! April 22, 2017, 1 PM

Under the direction of Jim Gloria of Totts Gap Arts, create your own unique hypertufa planter. Your newly formed planter will need to cure, so make sure to mark your calendar for day two!

Part II of II - Saturday, May 6, 2017, 1 PM

Join us as Joann Ginder of Ginder Greenhouse helps you complete your beautiful project. You will be helped to choose, arrange, plant and care for your creation.

Due to class size limitations, this is a ticketed event. You can secure your space by purchasing a ticket at Ginder Greenhouse or at Totts Gap Arts. You can also register online at
